

Dedalus Group acquires ExpertDoc, a frontrunner in Clinical Decision Support for general practitioners in the Netherlands

Milan, July 21st 2022 - Dedalus Group, leader in the European Digital Health sector, announces that it has finalised an agreement to acquire 100% of ExpertDoc, a frontrunner in the field of clinical decision support software for general practitioners in the Netherlands.

ExpertDoc focuses on a new, efficient way to disseminate knowledge on the Healthcare Ecosystem through a Clinical Decision Support solution that aims to help doctors treat their patients in a better way.

This wide competence has helped the organisation in becoming a successful partner for many healthcare IT providers in different domains. With ExpertDoc, Dedalus continues the mission of helping healthcare professionals with clinical decision support tools, that allows them to focus on patient's need; providing the best care quickly and safely.

Andrea Fiumicelli, CEO of Dedalus Group, explained that: "Dedalus continues to strengthen the business of clinical contents, basis for advanced Clinical Decision Support and is at the centre of ensuring the highest quality and safety of care. Healthcare Professionals are experiencing great pressure due to continue staff shortages and they are looking for digital tools to improve and helping them in their daily job. The acquisition of ExpertDoc is further accelerating the growth of our Clinical Decision Support solutions portfolio".

"Adding ExpertDoc to our organisation is the next step for us in meeting the need for further clinical decision support within the Healthcare community. Creating new additional services that help healthcare professionals in their day-to-day work. This kind of support is extremely appreciated from the GPs in the community, who are constantly looking for the most effective way to care for their patients" says John Siefkes, general manager of Dedalus Netherlands and Belgium.

ExpertDoc has been the frontrunner in the field of clinical decision support software for general practitioners in the Netherlands for several years. "Together with Dedalus, ExpertDoc will take the next step in the innovation of this software for the entire healthcare field in the Netherlands and beyond" commented Eric Grosfeld, CEO of ExpertDoc.

Dedalus is majority-owned by ARDIAN, a world-leading private investment house. In the acquisition, Dedalus has been supported by EPYON for financial advice, JB law for legal advice and BDO for tax assistance.
